

Louth Business Awards

And The Finalists are...

The aim of the Awards Scheme is to recognise the achievements of companies and individuals in promoting excellent services and products in a top class manner. They also encourage companies large and small to continually improve their business. Even in these tough times many businesses are beating the trend and deserve to be recognized.

The Awards will be presented to the winners at the Chamber Gala Dinner in the Fairways Hotel Dundalk on Saturday 16th October 2010. This Black Tie event is now one of the highlights in the social calendar in Dundalk with just under 400 attending each year.

Celebrating local business success stories, guests will mix with local dignitaries and fellow business people. There will be plenty of glitz and glamour on the night in what is always a truly memorable occasion.

If you would like to book some tickets they cost €50 per person including a champagne reception, dinner and wine followed by dancing until late.

Dundalk Chamber is delighted to announce the finalists in the Louth Business Awards 2010.

Security you can rely on

DAVID Courtney is an Ardee businessman who is determined to beat the current economic downturn and make this country competitive once more. David is the owner of Advanced Digital Security Ireland (ADSI) which is based at Ardee Business Park. The company provides the latest CCTV security systems coupled with modern satellite and internet-based technologies.

With the recent 26% increase in burglaries in the North East, ADSI have concentrated on delivering a value added product to the cost conscious customer, without compromising on the technology used.

ADSI Systems suit retail units, schools, hospitals, hotels, private houses and construction sites amongst other commercial facilities. Terms of quality are backed by a comprehensive service and maintenance plan which can also be adapted to incorporate existing systems.

With the help of the Louth County Enterprise Board and Tullyallen-based Ardagh Consultants ADSI has established itself in Ardee Business Park and plans are well underway to recruit a permanent team of qualified, experienced field technicians, as well as additional sales and administration staff.

It has not been easy getting the business to this stage of development and 2010 has provided many challenges. But David has courage and confidence and believes his company ADSI will continue to prosper.
